

Tristan Krammel

krammeltristan@gmail.com ❖ (561) 346-7260 ❖ Washington, D.C

WORK EXPERIENCE

---

Sitar Arts Center

May 2026 - August 2026

Youth Mentor

Washington, D.C

- Facilitated student engagement and growth through a youth-centered approach to professional development including hands-on workshop instruction, one-on-one tutoring and mentoring, and worksite visits to collaborate with supervisors.
- Established professional relationships with several arts organizations across the DMV as a liaison between student interns and work supervisors.

DC Arts Center | AdMo Pen Pals Project

February 2026 - Present

Program Coordinator

Washington, D.C

- Conceptualized, pitched, and executed a local pen pal project with 75+ sign-ups in collaboration with the D.C Arts Center, a gallery and performing arts space in Adams Morgan.
- Identified an unmet social need through community research and created the solution—a pen pal program that emphasizes a meaningful approach to correspondence with thoughtful onboarding materials, handcrafted welcome letters, and a structured matching process.
- Marketed the program by designing a flyer to paste onto lampposts and writing copy for the organization's website and newsletter.
- Developed the program through rigorous consideration of the user experience, creating stickers, prompt cards, and deploying a wax seal to elevate the experience and maximize user retention.

National Building Museum

December 2025 - May 2026

Visitor Services Representative

Washington, D.C

- Served as the first point of contact for a diverse range of visitors, including museum members, school groups, and first-time visitors, providing orientation and support throughout the museum experience.
- Facilitated informal arts education by contextualizing exhibitions, responding to interpretive questions, and directing visitors to educational programs and resources.

Katzen Arts Center | American University

August 2025 - April 2026

Communications Fellow

Washington, D.C

- Assisted in the content plan for the Katzen 20th Anniversary event, contributing to the shape and programming of anniversary-related events.
- Created and distributed arts center marketing materials, such as social media posts and flyers.
- Edited programs, copy, and marketing materials for a diverse range of programs, including theatre, dance, and music.

Smathers Special Collections | University of Florida Libraries

January 2025 - July 2025

Archivist, Student Assistant

Gainesville, FL

- Processed four significant collections using SAA standards for arrangement, description, and preservation.
- Notable collections include the Rainbow Williams Papers (correspondence and ephemera from a lesbian artist and activist) and the Frank O'Connor papers (a significant literary archive requiring a new finding aid).

- Following three semesters of volunteering, supported the onboarding of a new Student Engagement Manager by sharing institutional knowledge and program history.
- Collaborated with museum staff in the education department to plan, promote, and execute Museum Nights, a monthly community engagement event attracting hundreds of visitors.
- Led and facilitated meetings of student volunteers to brainstorm, plan, and implement engaging activities for Museum Nights.
- Designed and produced instructional flyers and educational documents, facilitating visitor engagement and learning across diverse art topics during Museum Nights activities.

INDEPENDENT PROJECTS

---

Rove 54 | Prototype Program

April 2026 - July 2026CreatorWashington, D.C*

- Designed and beta tested a group-based scavenger hunt project in Adams Morgan, guiding participants through six hidden sticker seals across the neighborhood via riddles and a printed field guide.
- Built and maintained the project website (rove54.quest), including static site development, NFC-linked location pages, and analytics infrastructure.
- Produced physical program materials through designed copper tags, coins, and neighborhood-embedded NFC stickers.
- Curated participant-authored proverbs from friends, collaborators, and locals for inclusion at each site, honoring community voice within the program design.

The High Dive | Independent Zine

In ProductionCreator & EditorWashington, D.C*

- Founded and edited a street-interview zine that platforms everyday voices through a carbon-copy paper interview format, object photography, and an inspired punk aesthetic.
- Interviewed strangers with a single question about an object they're carrying, producing both a designed keepsake for the participant and archival material for the zine.
- Directed all editorial, design, and production decisions, from interview method to layout to print.

EDUCATION

---

American University

August 2025 - PresentMaster's in Arts ManagementWashington, D.C*

- Co-President of the Emerging Arts Leaders Society (EALS), wherein I helped restructure the organization after a leadership transition.
- Most relevant coursework: Financial Management in the Arts (budgeting, revenue models, financial literacy); Nonprofit Governance (board relations, fiduciary oversight); Marketing the Arts (audience development and outreach).

University of Florida

August 2022 - July 2025Major in English, Minor in EducationGainesville, FL*

- Accepted into the first cohort of the Alexander Grass Scholars Research Program wherein I led a 6-week research project into a historic AIDS advocacy organization based in Gainesville.
- Participated in a funded independent research project under the Grass Scholars program wherein I studied the unpublished dream manuscripts of Frank O'Connor, culminating in a symposium.
- Served two years as president of the UF English Society, a club dedicated to developing student interest and understanding of literature and the humanities.
- Organized and led a group of students in bi-weekly volunteering at a public elementary school.